In a despatch, dated 30th November, Earl Kimberley, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has received from the Hon. Mr. Tommochy a despatch giving an account of the typhoon of the 14th October, and expressing regret for the life and property lost, and high appreciation of the "many gallant services which were rendered on the occasion, in the endeavour to save the lives and properties of those in danger."

A rumour has been freely circulated these last few days to the effect that the Troopship Tyne, which was to have left home on the 30th December last with Naval ratings for the China Station, and Military drafts for Singapore and Hongkong, had sprung a leak near Gibraltar and had to be put back for repairs. On enquiries to-day from official sources we find there is no foundation for such a rumour.

We have received a communication from a correspondent, in which he criticises rather severely the firing of the Iniskilling at the funeral ceremonies yesterday afternoon. His remarks, though true, are rather too personal and acrimonious for these columns. There is always a difficulty in breaking off men from the habits they have been used to, and new drill with fresh words of command, take some time to replace old ones. This, we believe, was the origin of the mistakes made by the men yesterday, which certainly made the last round appear more like a feu-de-jolie than volley-firing; added to which, they were posted in a very cramped and irregular formation owing to limited space, and the word of command could not be heard by the whole platoon.

"Brown and the Bradmans" was the piece given in the Theatre Royal, City Hall, on Saturday night by Willard's Wanderers. The audience was fairly large, and all through was exceedingly demonstrative and boisterous in applause and demands for encores. The scenery and stage fittings were very good, and the way in which the Burlesque was put on the stage was extremely creditable. Mr Willard gave a funny representation of Brown, the temper-tossed, bawling, groaning, but his handling of the part was rather too broad, and occasionally verged on the vulgar. Mr. Short's gag upon the Tremendous was good, and his acting very fair, although he was more for show than for the vulgar. Mr. Russell gave a quiet, dry, and sometimes comic rendering of Robinson, the court physician. The other male characters were satisfactory. Miss A. Varnie was successful as Kessie Kimo; Miss V. Lytle was a gorgeous Captain Pip; Miss A. Boreford as Princess Pretty-Eyes was "fair to look upon"; while Miss C. Carlton was a pretty little Fatima. As to the singing and dancing little need be said. "All on account of Eliza" sung by Mr. Willard, seemed to take the taste of the audience, and was noisily demanded a second time. The ladies of the company acquitted themselves well, but Miss Varnie seemed to be suffering from an extremely heavy cold. A couple of hours of hearty laughter was enjoyed.

This forenoon the ship Hindostan, which sailed from Hongkong, bound for San Francisco, on Monday, the 9th instant, returned to Harbour. From what we can gather it would seem that shortly after leaving port the crew refused duty, but from what cause is not yet definitely known. The ship was discovered to be leaking, and it was a fortunate circumstance that no less than five stowaways were found on board. These men, who were all sailors, rendered valuable assistance in pumping the ship. Under the circumstances Captain Bolyea deemed it advisable to put back. We understand the whole of the crew will be charged at the Harbour Master's to-morrow morning with refusal of duty, when fuller particulars will be learned. Some rather ugly rumours are afloat as to the origin of the leakage, and these will no doubt be fully investigated by the proper authorities, in whose hands we believe the matter has been placed. If the reports we hear be true, some one or other is deserving of heavy punishment.

There is published in the Gazette of Saturday the text of "An Act to restrict the influx of Chinese into New South Wales," and which has been assented to. The terms of the Act are of the most stringent character, and virtually put a stop to Chinese emigration from all parts, unless it can be shown that the emigrant is a British subject, and a "certificate of the Governor of any British Colony or of a British Consul shall be sufficient evidence of the claim of such Chinese to exemption." Masters are required to give to the Customs official particulars as to the name, birth-place, age, place of residence, date and place of shipment, and the occupation of his passengers. Failing to comply with these requirements, the master is liable to a penalty not exceeding £200. The number of Chinese is restricted to one for each hundred tons of tonnage, and for a breach of this regulation there is a penalty of £100. Before Chinese vessels may be allowed to land, the master of the vessel must pay to the Customs the sum of £10 for each Chinese passenger, and a certificate to that effect will then be given to the Chinese. Should any Chinese be allowed to land or escape before such payment has been made, the master will be liable in each instance to a penalty of £50, and will in addition have to pay the sum required before landing. Regulations as to Chinese passing from any other Colony into New South Wales are also laid down. Chinese who form part of the crew are exempted from the operation of the Act. Clause 13 deals with the manner in which penalties are to be recovered. This is to be done by summary process. The Act gives power to the Colonial Treasurer to authorise any officer of the Customs to detain any vessel, the master of which has rendered himself liable to any of the penalties contained in the Act. In default of payment, the vessel will be sold, and after paying the penalty and the costs incurred in the sale of the vessel, the balance will be held in trust for the owners. Chinese accredited to the Colony by the Government of China are exempted.

THE S. S. Lorne, Captain McKechnie, has experienced very heavy weather on the voyage from Saigon; she reports:—

Left Saigon on the 7th January, and from that date until arrival at Hongkong experienced very heavy weather with a tremendous high cross sea; shipped a sea on the 11th January carrying away passengers' galley, closets, &c., splitting rails forward and breaking several iron stanchions.

THE Shanghai Courier has the following about the robbery, reported some time ago, which took place on board the Chinkiang at Canton:—

On Tuesday evening we published a paragraph extracted from one of the Hongkong papers relative to a robbery at Canton, on the 1st instant, from the steamer Chinkiang, Captain Orr. From particulars we have gleaned since the arrival of the steamer in Shanghai it appears that the property stolen was greater than at first stated. The thieves obtained access to the property by means of a false key, with which they opened the captain's lock and extracted therefrom a small box which was unlocked, and which contained $400, a quantity of jewellery (principally pearls to the value of $100), and what was more important still his certificates and testimonials. The captain, having suspicion that some persons on board the steamer had committed the robbery, obtained the assistance of the Police, and a search of the vessel was made, but none of the missing property could be found. The British Consul was then communicated with, and took the matter in hand, the result being the apprehension of the steward of the Chinkiang and the theft of his key. After a preliminary examination the two were handed over to the Shanghai Yamen, where they will be detained until the arrival in Canton of the Chinkiang, which vessel will leave Shanghai for Hongkong and Canton to-morrow morning.

DEATH OF THE REV. C. G. BOOTH.

The news of the death of the Rev. C. G. Booth, which became known yesterday forenoon, cast a gloom over the Colony such as has not been seen for many years. Nearly every one felt as if he had lost a personal friend; and indeed, to those who had the privilege of knowing the many good qualities of the estimable young clergyman who has been taken from amongst us in the midst of his worthy work, the feeling was more akin to grief than that of mere regret. Mr Booth had endeared himself to all whom he had met during the too short period of his residence here; and as he possessed in a pre-eminent degree the unconscious power of gladdening all with whom he came in contact, his success as a Military and Seamen's Chaplain was not surprising. He was possessed with the desire to make those around him happier and therefore better than he found them; and in so doing he identified himself with everything in the shape of innocent amusement with the happiest results. In the Garrison and amongst the Sailors he was welcomed as a personal friend, and many a tear was shed when those whose welfare he had so carefully studied heard that he was no more. No higher tribute can be paid to a pastor than this; and it may truly be said of the youthful worker who has now gone to his rest that his unobtrusive, cheerful, and whole-souled work will follow him, and that his good and guileless influence will long remain. He was the soul of genial goodness, and he was warmly welcomed wherever he went; he therefore exercised a wide influence for good not alone by his earnest preaching, but by the thoroughly Catholic and lovable spirit which ever pervaded his life. If the united regret of an entire community can do anything towards alleviating the grief of his kindred at home, Mr Booth had also many friends in Shanghai and the ports, who will be sad at heart when they hear that his work is done.

Mr Booth was a native of County Clare, and was educated at Trinity College, Dublin, where he graduated B.A. He arrived here on the 1st April, 1880, as Chaplain to the Spiller's Home and St. Peter's Church, West Point, in succession to the Rev. Mr. Henderson, and was appointed Chaplain to the Troops in Garrison from that date. Some months ago he contracted a Malarial Typhoid Fever which was never able thoroughly to shake off. Towards the latter end of December, however, decided symptoms of improvement had shown themselves, and he was fast progressing towards a complete recovery, but a fresh cold contracted during exposure through his anxiety to superintend the decorations of his church at Christmas tide brought on a relapse which his reduced and enervated state of body was unable to resist, and he succumbed a few minutes before midnight on Saturday. Dr. Hungerford, A.M.D., visited him daily, and about ten days ago he was removed from his lodgings to the premises of the Chartered Mercantile Bank in Queen's Road, where he had the unremitting and constant attendance and company of Dr. Large, A.M.D., who was himself an invalid, though not wholly incapacitated from attending to his weaker and still more inviolated friend. Up till Saturday evening Dr. Large entertained his fears of his ultimate recovery, although the patient himself frequently gave expression to his doubts on the subject.

The funeral was conducted with full military honours and took place yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, from the premises of the Chartered Mercantile Bank in Queen's Road Central. The procession formed up in the usual manner, with the firing party in front, consisting of 100 Rank and File of the Royal Iniskilling Fusiliers, under the command of Captain Stanforth, with Lieutenants Mayne and Davidson. The Band and Pipes and Drums of the Regiment came next, followed by the body placed in a gun carriage drawn by the Iniskillings. The pall-bearers were, Captain Michaelson, and Lieutenants Lovett and Linford, R.I.F., and Lieutenant Lane, R.A., on the one side; and on the other, Captain Lyall, R.A., Surgeon Worsley, A.M.D., Deputy Assistant Commissary General, Ordnance Store Department, and Captain Hare, R.I.F. The chief mourners included: Colonel Gaudes, R.I.F., A.C. G. Meyer, Ordnance Store Department, A.C. G. Meyer, Commissariat and Transport Department, Major Milroy, Royal Engineers, Major Murray, Army Pay Department, Surgeon-Major Hungerford, A.M.D., Senior Medical Officer, Dr. Ayres, Colonial Surgeon, Dr. Murray, A.M.D., Superintendent of the Government Civil Hospital, Mr. Symes, Mr. C. P. Chiles, D.D. Grand Master of the Free and Accepted Masons of Hongkong and South China, Commander Akeley, U.S. Navy, and the Rev. Father Vignaro, Chaplain to the Roman Catholic Troops. Following these came a large assemblage of general mourners, consisting of H. E. the Lieutenant-General Commanding and his personal staff, with officers from every corps and Department in Garrison; Major Moore-Lane and Officers, Royal Artillery, Colonel Papillon and Officers, Royal Engineers, the Officers of the Iniskillings, Commissariat, Ordnance Store, and Army Pay and Medical Departments. Signal was made in the forenoon from the flagstaff that three officers from each of the frigates and two from each gunboat were to be present, and as many others as chose. This order was largely availed of, and a numerous gathering of Naval Officers were present to swell the ranks of the general mourners. His Excellency the Governor was represented by his private Secretary, Mr. G. S. Northcote, and his Aide-de-camp, Lieutenant C. C. Cox, R.I.F. A large number of Civilian friends, who had been associated with deceased in the Masonic Craft, were also present, and the whole of the troops, in Garrison, Royal Artillery, Royal Engineers, Staff-Sergeants of the Garrison and the Army Hospital Corps attended voluntarily, numbers of the men employed on duties of a lighter nature requesting permission to be present; the whole under the Command of Major Taylor, R.I.F., Field Officer for the week. On arriving at the entrance to the cemetery the coffin was taken from the gun carriage and carried, shoulder high, by two Color Sergeants and two Sergeants of the Fusiliers to the Chapel, where a portion of the Burial Service of the Church of England was read by the Rev. W. Jennings, Colonial Chaplain, assisted by the Rev. J. B. Oak. The service was concluded at the grave, and on the body being lowered three volleys were fired over the remains. The coffin was literally covered with wreaths and crosses of flowers arranged and placed there in kindly remembrance of a faithful and true friend and an affectionate pastor.

At the forenoon service in the Cathedral yesterday the Rev. W. Jennings announced the death of Mr Booth to the congregation, and concluded by making a few feeling and appropriate remarks on the occasion.

THE "BANDIT OF THE COLOMBO."—A gentleman was recently standing in one of the shadowy nooks of the Colombo at Rome, when he was somewhat brusquely snatched by a passing figure. With a quick instant he clutched his hand to his watch-pocket. His watch was gone! He darted after the thief, who turned sharply round, at the same time clutching a watch. "Give me that watch!" A dash—the stolen property was recovered. The startled robber disappeared, and the gentleman went home to boast of his adventure and his prowess. What was his consternation on entering his bedroom, to find his own watch, which he had forgotten to put on, staring him in the face from the mantelpiece! He had been the thief, and the other wretched man had stumbled over him in the dark, and when overtaken and stopped was snatching his own watch, which he had not time to resume from the thief. This tourist is now known to a wide and admiring circle of friends as the "Bandit of the Colombo."

THE LOSS OF THE GERMAN SHIP.

We regret to learn, from papers received late on Saturday, by the Ensay, from Manila, the loss of the German barque G. F. Monte, Captain Hector Stenzel, which left Hongkong on the 8th Oct. last, in ballast, bound for Astoria, Oregon; the vessel encountered a series of heavy gales and at last stranded on the island of Batanes, one of the Philippine group, on the morning of the 26th October, at 9 o'clock.

The Captain, his wife, and fourteen of the crew escaped with their lives. The shipwrecked party, after a good deal of hardships extending over a period of fully two months, arrived at Manila on the 7th January. Messrs Melchers & Co. are the agents in Hongkong.

The Comerio of Manila, of the 7th Jan., has the following:—
"Through the courtesy of the German Consul at this port, we are enabled to give our readers the details of the loss of the German ship G. F. Monte, Captain Hector Stenzel. The vessel left Hongkong on the 8th October last, in ballast, bound for Astoria, Oregon, in North China Sea, with an adverse current, running. The vessel was in the middle of a typhoon on the following day (25th) such as the Captain said he does not recollect having met during his thirty years' experience as a sea-faring man. One of the crew was killed by the force of a wave which swept the deck. This state of things caused the ship to be stranded on the coast of the island of Batanes on the morning of the 26th, about 9 o'clock; the Captain, his wife, and fourteen of the crew being saved, and the vessel was left lying upon a rocky bank. On the same day the crew tried to save the ship's papers and some of the cargo, but a heavy sea came to their aid, and they were unable to do so, on perceiving that they were being disposed, the officer was gladly accepted; then all went to a place called Chapayan Point, where they stayed at the houses of some farmers during the 27th and 28th, receiving there the best assistance obtainable, and curing their wounds. On the 29th the crew returned to the ship, and the Governor of the place to report the loss. They stayed there till the beginning of December, owing to the unsettled state of the weather. After the changing of the moon on the 29th, they started on another adventurous voyage, in very bad weather, during which they were obliged to be continually on deck, and had the misfortune to lose another man, who was washed overboard; the rest of the crew, together with the Captain and his wife, arrived at Manila on the 7th Jan. The shipwrecked people spoke in flattering terms of the Governor of Batanes as well as of the people of other towns through which they passed, for the assistance and attention received from them."

LAW NOTES.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF HONGKONG.
(Before the Full Court.)
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION, Tuesday, 17th Jan. 10 a.m.—Lee Tak Cheong v. Duddell, motion by the defendant that the verdict be entered for the defendant.

SUPREME COURT.
IN ORIGINAL JURISDICTION.
(Before the Hon. Francis Sowerden, Acting Chief Justice.)

ROSA v. HO AUNG JUDGMENT.
His Lordship said that the defendant in which the plaintiff sued the defendant for the recovery of money alleged to be due under an agreement made to sell and purchase Martins Lot No. 23. The agreement set out that a deposit of $5,000 was paid down, but this had not been done. The defendant admitted that he agreed to purchase the piece of ground, but denied that he agreed to pay $5,000, and asked the court to be set aside on the grounds that the property had been misrepresented to him. The plaintiff denied, and allowing that he had done so it was not at all material to the contract, and no issue could arise from it. The defendant had been negotiating in bad and appeared to be ready to buy anything offered to him. There was no claim for specific performance made, and though it was stated in the contract that the said Ho Aung had paid the sum of $5,000, and though this was not a fact, his Lordship did not see that the Court had any power to introduce into the agreement the fact of the defendant's misrepresentation. The defendant had already been paid, he would therefore enter judgment for the defendant. His Lordship remarked that these land sales which were made for speculation only ought to be discouraged.

Mr. Francis, who appeared for the defendant, made an application for costs, which were granted.
Mr. Haylar appeared for the plaintiff.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.
(Before the Hon. J. Russell, Acting Justice.)
Monday, Jan. 16.

CARLEN v. MESSERY (372).—This case, which was adjourned on Friday to allow of an Arabic interpreter being procured, was decided in favour of the plaintiff. His Lordship remarked that the defendant had been the cause of some valuable time being wasted, as he was convinced by his interjections that he knew sufficient Hindustani to understand what was going on.

CHAN YU TING v. LAI TZE PO ($700).—Mr. Johnson, of Messrs Sharp, Toller, and Johnson, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Messery, of Messrs Deane and Messery, for the defendant.

Mr. Johnson said that the plaintiff's claim was for the refunding of $700, which had been paid as bargain money to the defendant. An agreement was entered into on the 10th September between the plaintiff and defendant, in which the former agreed to purchase the property, lot 216, situated in Wai Ying Lane, at the price of $1,000. The defendant, however, said that he was a dealer in Malva Opium, and had bought the raw opium from Hadjee Ali, Yek-in and U-tin. He denied selling any opium to the plaintiff. The plaintiff in Court he used for boiling his food and the scales were used for weighing raw opium. The case was remanded to allow of defendant bringing forward the parties he bought the opium from. Bail in two sureties of $100 each was accepted.

defendant several times for the title deeds to have the assignment made out, but these had never been produced. The defendant had never been the holder of the property, and not only that, but there was no mortgage on the property, and he had still failed to complete the contract. The plaintiff therefore now sued for the return of the $700, together with the interest thereon from the date of payment.

The case was adjourned, there being some other cases at present going on, in which this one is involved.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.
(Before Frederick Stewart, Esq.)
Monday, Jan. 16.

WHOLESALE THEFT.
Loah Aun, a coolie, was charged with stealing a pair of shoes, a cotton jacket, and a purse, containing $3.00 silver, $3.00 copper cents, and 1,000 cash, on the 21st October last, at the residence of the late Mr. Wong Alung, a head coolie living at 23, Ni Hing Lane, said that on the 21st Oct. he took all his clothes out to discharge coats. Defendant complained of a sore eye and was allowed to remain in the coolie house. Going back some time afterwards, witness found an entering his room, and opening his box, which was unlocked, and the above money was gone, as also the property. Though the room door was locked, any person could have access to it by climbing over the partition, which was not very high. Defendant was gone by this time and though information was lodged at the station, he was not apprehended till yesterday. Witness seized him while standing at a house door in Queen's Road East. Defendant admitted taking the money when brought to the station, but said he did not think there was so much of it.

Defendant said he stole the money but thought there was the amount stated by complainant, as it disappeared so quickly. He had been sick, and had had no work for some time.

SIX MONTHS' IMPRISONMENT WITH HARD LABOUR was imposed.

A BATCH OF ROGUES.
"Loah Aun and four others were charged with being suspicious characters.
John Butler, P.O. discovered the five defendants in Sui Hing Lane early yesterday morning four of them sleeping under mats and the other one keeping watch. He had been watching this lair as he had information there were thieves in it. The first defendant had a false queue, and the other three had no place to sleep in. The first defendant said that his queue had been cut off by some person, while he was lying in the street. They were each sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labour as rogues and vagabonds.

THEFT BY AN ACTOR.
Chu Aun, an actor, was convicted of stealing a box containing property to the value of $20, from a fortune-teller's house, No. 17, High Street. This morning defendant said to the fortune-teller's brother that he could not sleep and thought he would go out for a short time. The box in question was placed in an empty room of the house, and defendant had not been seen near it, but shortly after he had left, he was brought back by a constable with the box under his arm. He was then taken to the Police Office and charged with the theft. He admitted taking the box, and stated that his company was broken up and in order to leave the money to go home he had taken the box. His departure was not noticed, and he lay for six months, he being sentenced to imprisonment for that period with hard labour.

AN OPIUM CASE.
Ho Aun, shopkeeper, was charged with being in possession of prepared opium, without a permit from the Opium Farmer. Inspector Perry, along with two excise officers and an informant went to No. 50, Wellington Street, and by virtue of a warrant searched the premises and discovered two tins, containing 5 taels of prepared opium, 73 tins of the same, and scales and other utensils bearing traces of raw opium. Defendant showed him the six permits produced in Court, when one was asked for.

Loi Akin, an unemployed coolie, said he went to No. 80, Wellington Street, on the 11th inst., and purchased from defendant 10 cents worth of opium. He then went and gave information to the police, and accompanied Inspector Perry to the place.

The two excise officers gave evidence similar to Inspector Perry, and valued the opium at $205. They also identified some of the articles produced as being used in the preparation of opium.

The interpreter at Court stated that of the six permits only two belonged to Ho Aun, and were only to the amount of 10 taels.

Defendant stated that he bought the two tins of prepared opium on the 1st instant from the Opium Farmer, and said he was a dealer in Malva Opium, and had bought the raw opium from Hadjee Ali, Yek-in and U-tin. He denied selling any opium to the informant. The pans in Court he used for boiling his food and the scales were used for weighing raw opium.

The case was remanded to allow of defendant bringing forward the parties he bought the opium from. Bail in two sureties of $100 each was accepted.

SHANGHAI.
(N. C. D. News.)
We have received a List of the Rules, etc. of the Kibao Exhibition to be held in the Imperial Park from the 1st March to the 31st June, inclusive. Foreigners are cordially invited to attend and bring exhibits. Awards will be made and medals given to the most deserving of the Exhibitors; and it is hoped that all learned persons will advise and give information respecting the articles on exhibition. The Shanghai Correspondent of the Times, in his letter of 12th October, draws the attention of English readers to the want of an office in the Court where Joint Stock Companies might be registered. In doing so he says that "preliminary negotiations between the leading Treaty Powers have been necessary, but as the English and American laws of limited liability are identical, and very similar to the Commercial laws of France and Germany, any points where a British Order in Council might be ineffective as against the foreign shareholder of a Company in liquidation, or in any other way become operative, could, in our opinion, be provided for without difficulty." Preliminary negotiations may be necessary, but, writing without special knowledge of the existing law and without the conventions before us, under which Foreign Banks and Insurance Offices establish Agencies and carry on business in London, we should say that no negotiations are requisite. To take one instance of a foreign company which has agencies in many places under English law, England, India and the Colonies; the Comptoir d'Escompte de Paris is recognized and fully protected by law in England and her possessions under the Convention dated 30th April, 1862. We believe that the Deutsche Bank and American Insurance Offices are similarly recognized though it may be under separate Conventions. Now it appears to us, writing under correction by lawyers, that any British company registered in Shanghai under the power given in the Shanghai Court by virtue of a Convention, which we hope to see issued before long, would have ample powers to recover against all their shareholders of the nationalities which have entered into the Conventions to which we have referred. And not only against their shareholders, but against American, German and French debtors generally. We have no doubt that the establishment of a Companies Registration Department here, that we are glad to see, would have taken the matter up, and we hope to hear before long that the delays and indifference of the Foreign Office on the subject have come to an end.

A collision occurred outside our office a few minutes before noon yesterday (11th), caused by one of the vicious brutes of ponies that drag the Municipal water-carts running away. A jinkie that was fortunately unoccupied was smashed; and the pony proved quite beyond the control of his driver. The cart was soon getting heavily upon its way, while all that was left of the jinkie was the cashion and a few fragments of splintered wood.

The Northern Post regrets to have to record the death of Mr. E. Macarty, Assistant Examiner, I. M. C. Service, which took place suddenly on Christmas morning, from heart disease, the deceased gentleman was highly esteemed by his brother officers. In the Ridu match the previous day he won the second prize. Mr. Macarty was well known in Shanghai. He was removed from this port to Chinkiang, and thence to Tientsin on promotion.

THIRDS DAY, 11TH JANUARY.
(Northern Post, Dec. 29.)
We were greatly surprised to hear the pleasant music of a military band band yesterday morning, when passing the residence of the Commissioner of Customs, and on inquiry found it to be the Victory's new band, serenading the Commissioner on his birthday. The band has been formed by Mr. Biggel, who, in the absence of seven weeks, has taught twenty young Chinese lads to play from note, and they play remarkably well, and now only awaiting the arrival of a further supply of new instruments to complete the formation of a fine military band. Mr. Biggel is to be congratulated on the success of his band, and it must have been very pleasing to the sleeper to be awakened on his birthday by such joyous music.

Intimations.

THE CHINA REVIEW.

The widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

The China Review, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., and the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.

The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Monuments and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelago, and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a résumé in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department.

Notes and Replies are classified being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries; as are also those queries which through asking for information, furnish new or unpublished data concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1879, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this journal, and corresponding Review. It is a six-page, monthly, repository of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is almost the price of the Review. Address China Review, Hongkong.—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.).

Traveller's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:—"This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been sent on foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which useful serial a year or two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Coventry Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies; has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular service, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In a paper on 'The Legends of the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connection with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese post-telegraph of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, it carries out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice, the 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to ensure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine."

The China Review is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan, from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, consider themselves justified in guaranteeing an ultimate circulation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of them.

The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and and-constructive in tone—is almost limitless. It is on the one hand commensurate Chinese belief and interest while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners. Like English journals it contains Editorials, local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements.

Visitors' Column.

We have instituted, as an experiment a Visitors' Column, which we trust will prove successful—and be found useful. To it will be relegated from time to time such items of information, lists, cables and other intelligence as is considered likely to prove valuable to persons passing through the City, and in connection with which we have opened a Selecter HOME AND BUSINESS Directory, applications for enrolment into which we are now ready to receive.
